Y3

We have lots of fun things planned for the upcoming term. In English, we will be reading a book called Counting on Katherine, based on a female mathematician who worked at NASA. For PE, we will be doing outdoor athletics and yoga. In geography we will study deserts around the world, particularly the Atacama Desert. Feel free to carry out any of your own research on the above subjects before returning to school.

We hope you've all have a fantastic Christmas and New Year!
